

UTAH CATTLE FREE FROM TUBERCULOSIS

Careful Testing of Animals by Government Inspectors Shows Gratifying Results.

Work of testing dairy cattle and breeding stock for tuberculosis is being carried out by Inspector Murray and his assistants by way of assistance to the state board of health, with Dr. T. B. Beatty in charge of that department. So far as the work has gone, Dr. Murray reports no signs of tubercular cattle. He expects to complete the work in time to have his entire force ready for the sheep inspection, which is coincident with shearing time. Inspector Murray says he thinks the state now practically is clear of tubercular cattle, and he is interested in seeing an amendment passed to the present state law regulating the shipment of diseased cattle into the state.

In the bill soon to be introduced in the state legislature to amend the present law regulating shipment of dairy cattle into the state, he said, "there are commendable features. There is small advantage in getting the cattle of the state free from tuberculosis to have them infected by careless shippers, and I trust the amended law will materially aid in keeping the present conditions as they are."

SLAYER OF FATHER DECLARED INSANE

By Associated Press.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 28.—John Dorst, who killed his father, Peter Dorst, on their dairy farm near North Bend Tuesday, will not be prosecuted for the crime, the coroner's inquest yesterday having shown that he is insane. Members of the Dorst family and a friend visiting them testified that young Dorst was subject to fits of violent passion. Mrs. Dorst said that her husband was her first cousin and that for generations back the two families had intermarried. Other members of her family had suffered from insanity. The killing of Peter Dorst, was unusually coldblooded. The young man shot his father after a brief altercation in the barn. When brought to the county jail here he told of how he planned the killing and experimented with different weapons. He insisted that he had a reason that would be recognized by an American jury as justifying his deed. The Dorsts, who came from Holland a few years ago, were prosperous.

WATER SUPPLY LOW IN CROTON RESERVOIR

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—New York is down to its last fifty billion gallons of water, and if the drought which has existed since last May continues for three months, Father Knickerbocker or will have to take a dry shave in the morning and drink his bitter ale. If the weather were suitable a man might wade across the Croton lake reservoir without wetting his shirt front. A report by the water commissioner says that the water is the lowest in the history of the water department. "There has been no rain of benefit to the city's water supply since last May," he said. "But there is no immediate danger. There is enough water for present needs, but there is not a drop to waste."

Gives Passersby Data on Weather

NEW GOVERNMENT KIOSK.

Kiosk Is Installed by Government at North Entrance to Federal Building.

SUPPLIES GROWING DEMAND

Will Give Temperatures and Precipitation as They Occur on Street.

Salt Lake now has a government kiosk. There is no need to get frightened about it, however, because it won't hurt you. It isn't an animal or a serpent of any kind—just a harmless but valuable weather recorder.

The kiosk, weighing four tons and standing seven feet high, was erected Saturday in front of the north entrance to the federal building. Originally it was planned to have it in place two months ago, but a series of mishaps delayed the work. Saturday morning, however, the workmen got busy and by afternoon had the big instrument put together.

The kiosk is for the recording of temperatures and rainfall as they occur on the streets. There has been a growing demand for records, especially temperature records, on the streets instead of on the top of the Boston building, from which they are now taken by the weather bureau.

Recording Instruments.

The kiosk is provided with the following instruments for weather recording:

Hygrometer—An indicator of percentages of relative humidity.

Thermometer—An accurately stemmed graduated thermometer with conspicuous figures and markings to facilitate easy reading.

Maximum and minimum thermometers—Showing the daily maximum and the daily minimum temperatures.

Rain gauge—A dial indicator showing the precipitation by hundredths of an inch.

Thermograph—A form of mechanically recording thermometer, making a continuous and automatic record of the temperature on a two-week sheet of band paper, so arranged that the previous record for several days from date is in plain view.

Borrowers Name.

The name "kiosk" was borrowed by Uncle Sam from England. In London the kiosk is a street shelter or bulletin board. The kiosk is four feet square, with a recessed space on each face thirty inches wide, thirty-five inches high and five inches deep, for the display of instruments. Each face is covered by a plate glass window. The instrument has considerable screen work, allowing a free passage of air to the instruments inside.

The kiosk here will be painted gray to harmonize with the federal building and the new house of the senate and house of representatives will be put in Monday and the device made ready for work by the middle of the week.

NO PAY, NO BERTH, WILL BE RULE HEREAFTER

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—Travelers may be forced to pay for Pullman berths they have reserved, but which they do not use, if a new rule on berth reservations is adopted by western railways. The subject was considered at a meeting of heads of the passenger traffic departments of the roads yesterday, and definite action on it postponed only because new Pullman rates go into effect first.

The plan is to insist on a full prepayment for berths at time of reservation. Now the berths can be reserved by a telephone call to the railroad office. This privilege has been abused, railroad men say, by persons who have changed their minds at the last minute about taking the trip planned, and who have not notified the railroad, allowing the reserved berths to be unoccupied.

Stomach Troubles Cured by Vinol

"I suffered so long from stomach trouble and indigestion, that I lost flesh rapidly—VINOL cured me after everything else had failed. It strengthened my digestive organs—gave me a hearty appetite, and I can eat anything without the slightest distress. I do not believe anything equals VINOL for stomach trouble and indigestion."

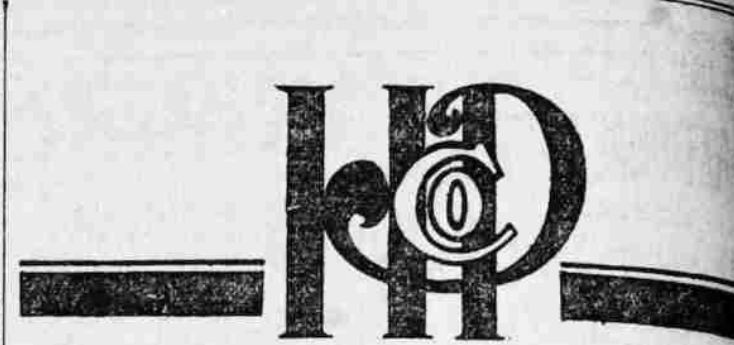

W. E. WATERHOUSE, Portland, Me.

Mr. Thos. G. Wallace, of Detroit, Mich., writes, "I suffered for years from a chronic stomach trouble. VINOL entirely cured me after everything else had failed."

It is the curative medicinal elements of the cod's liver, combined with the strengthening properties of tonic iron contained in VINOL, which makes it so successful in restoring perfect digestion, and at the same time building up the weakened run-down system.

Try a bottle of VINOL with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you.
